JETT CONFESSES TO THE MURDERS

Startling Statement in Hands of the Authorities.

Implicates Judge Hargis and Callahan in Plots Against Cockrell and Marcum.

HE ASKS FOR A CONTINUANCE

Cynthiana, June 12.—The Sun correspondent has positive information from a strictly reliable source that Curt Jett has made a complete confession and that it is in the hands of the authorities.

It is said here to have been made in the presence of Messrs. Stanley Webster, former county attorney, his uncle, Sam Jett, of Winchester, and B. R. Jonett, the attorney for Mrs. Marcum in her trial against the Hargises, B. F. French and Ed Callahan. The confession is quite lengthy and is so astounding in details as to be hardly creditable.

It covers the killings of Dr. Cox, James Cockrell and J. B. Marcum and corroborates testimony given by Ewan the star witness in trial of Jett for killing Marcum. He also quotes Tom White as having said that Mose Feltner's story of the attempts to ambush Marcum was true in every detail.

Interested attorneys have for several days been endeavoring to sell the confession, and have refused to make known its import in detail. By those who have seen it, however, it is said that it implicates Judge Jas. Hargis, Elbert Hargis and Ed Callahan; and that Senator Hargis is exonerated.

It can also be said on the same authority that Jett, in confession admits that he killed Marcum and Cockrell, but declares that he did not kill Dr. Cox. He says he arrived on the scene a few minutes after the shooting and saw Dr. Cox dying on the ground.

The defense this morning asked for a continuance in the new trial of Curt Jett, convicted of the assassination of Jim Cockrell.

Jett's trial is set for the September term. He will be taken to Jackson tonight to testify against Judge Jas. Hargis, who is indicted for the murder of Dr. Cox, and who is applying for bail.

BEVERIDGE MEAT BILL IS UP.

Syracuse, June 12.—Secretary of the Treasury Shaw, who was to have been the orator at the commencement exercises of Syracuse University, has cancelled his engagement. It is supposed that Shaw's action is due to the repeated criticisms of President Roosevelt by Chancellor Day, of the university, who has appeared in the press as the champion of the Standard Oil company and Chicago meat packers.

Differ On Six Points.

Washington, D. C., June 12.—The house committee on agriculture today will begin the consideration of the provisions of the Beveridge meat inspection measure. There are six points of the controversy between the friends of a rigid inspection bill that will insure clean and wholesome meats for the public and the Wadsworth element in the committee which will endeavor to weaken the measure by imposing a minimum of expense and regulation upon the packers. The points of difference are as follows:

First cost of inspection; use of preservatives and dyes in meat products; excluding the words "unsound unwholesome and unhealthful" in designating meat unfit for food; placing the date of government inspection on the labels of canned goods; empowering the government to destroy the carcasses of condemned animals; phraseology of the bill on constitutional points.

MORE SIDEWALKS ARE TO BE BUILT

City Now Can Condemn Property for This Purpose.

Amendments to Charter Become Effective and Council Is Prepared to Act.

WORK ON FOUNTAIN AVENUE.

Street improvements from now on will be facilitated by the operation of the amendments to the city charter, permitting the city to condemn property for street and sidewalk purposes, and to issue bonds and levy the assessment on the ten-year plan of annual installments. These amendments went into effect Monday, and it is understood that the general council will take advantage without delay of the right to condemn property for sidewalk purposes.

Jefferson street, it is said, will be the first one improved. Sidewalks end on the north side of the street and at the Illinois Central hospital and private property blocks the way. The general council immediately will order steps taken to ascertain the value of the land on which it is the intention to lay concrete walks.

Fountain Avenue Work.

Property owners and residents on Fountain avenue are restive under the delay in securing sidewalks and their representatives today are making inquiries as to the cause of the delay. The ordinance committees of both boards have been instructed to bring in ordinances providing for the work, but owing to a technical defect the measure was recommitted and has not been reported.

Residents will call on the chairmen of the committees of the two boards and urge them to hasten with the ordinance.

MURDER WILL OUT.

After Enjoying Liberty for Forty Years Murderer Is Caught.

Muskogee, I. T., June 12.—Newton Bohannon, was arrested at Okmulgee, I. T., on the charge of murdering Moses E. Choide in Fannin county, Texas, in 1867, and placed in the federal jail here today. Bohannon has been a fugitive from justice forty years. He was located on information given by his wife.

WHO IS CASSIE?

NOT MRS. DE VERE, SAYS ONE, SPEAKING WITH AUTHORITY.

Famous Toledo Forger and Cleveland Mistress of Finance Different Individuals.

Pittsburg, Pa., June 12.—Cassie Chadwick is not Madame De Vere. Her deposition in the Jutte case does not reveal this fact, but on authority of one closely connected with the suit in Pittsburg courts this statement is made.

Overshadowing all else in the case of Mrs. Jane Brokaw Jutte to recover about $3,000,000 which she alleges F. N. Hoffstott and J. W. Friend secured from her husband, the late William C. Jutte, is the mention of the name of Mrs. Chadwick.

The fact that she is not the woman who caused the downfall of the Toledo telegrapher is now believed by all who have had dealings with Mrs. Chadwick. The famous Madame De Vere had certain birthmarks that do not show on the person of Mrs. Chadwick. She always has said that she and Madame De Vere were not the same persons and during her preliminary trials in connection with the Oberlin bank case, for which she is now serving ten years in Columbus penitentiary, she exhibited her arm on the occasion to show it was not marked as the Bertillon records showed Madame De Vere's arm was.

Fatal Jump After Hat.

Talbott & Co., contractors, who are building lock No. 11 in Kentucky river at College Hill, was drowned Saturday afternoon. His hat blew into the river. He jumped in after it and never came up. When gotten out his neck was found broken. He had struck against a rock or snag.

The Hoosiers took the first game of the present Hoosier-Indian series at Wallace park yesterday by a score of 1 to 0. The game was well played but was won on a "give away." Errors lost for Paducah and what should have been a winning game for Miller was turned into a defeat by three errors, two on the infield and one in right garden. This gave the Hoosiers the winning run in the fourth inning, and but for this the teams might have been playing yet.

The game started out a pitchers' battle, in which Whitley had a little over Miller. Miller allowed fewer walks but Whitley kept hits down. Wetzel was the only Indian to make safe connection although several good blazes were turned into put-outs by the most sensational fielding.

The Indians had one man left on base. Had the Indians hit at all and placed men on bases, the base running might have helped. Mattison was himself and kept the warriors hugging bases as if they were life-preservers.

The game was witnessed by few fans, but now that the Indians are playing better ball, the fans doubtless will turn out and help by rooting.

The Worthies Defeated.

Cairo, Ill., June 12.—The Worthies were defeated by the locals in a hard-fought game yesterday. Two south-paw pitchers worked and game was one of the finest seen on the diamond this year.

Cairo 1 8 1
Batteries—Christman and Wade; Wagner and Searles.

Perry Green in the Vincennes Capital has the following to say of "His Jags," and unfortunately for "His Jags" it is not a "reversible opinion."

"A telegram from President Gosnell Saturday evening states that he could not get Umpire Nestor to work in Saturday's game because of the latter fearing that injury would be done him by Cairo people. Threats from the pen of Colonel-Farnbaker in the Bulletin were the cause of his actions. The Colonel, growing desperate, resorted to work that is a disgrace to the newspaper profession and that goes farther to make dirty baseball than anything else."

The fact that the Colonel stands in a class all to himself in baseball writing is not disputed. No one else wants to get into the class.

The management is preparing to adopt desperate chances to secure a pennant winning team. The boys may be playing in hard luck but the public thinks a change should come some time. This is what urges the management to speedy action.

HER PEEK-A-BOO

Was Cause of Young Woman Breaking Her Arm.

Chicago, June 12.—At last nature has rebelled against womankind's self-inflicted torture—the shirt-waist that buttons in the back. While hastily reaching around for a middle button on her best embroidered "peek-a-boo" which she was donning in preparation for an afternoon drive with her devoted "steady," Miss Annie Weissenborn of Belleville, Ill., suffered a fracture of one of the smaller bones of the forearm yesterday. When the news spread there was sympathy for her in every home, and also a feeling of dread at the unexpressed thought, "Who will be next?" For the fashionable yet terrible shirt-waist is a sword of Damocles hanging over the heads of all the sex.

CINCINNATI MYSTERY GROWS.

Water Returns to Mains, but Famine Is Not Explained.

Cincinnati, June 12.—The mystery that surrounded the sudden water famine in the city yesterday and last night was still further increased today when the flow in the mains was resumed without warning. The city officials found a valve in one of the big feed pipes that had been closed, but this did not supply half of the mains, and the discovery shed no light on the disappearance of the 48,000,000 gallons of water which the big pumps had been forcing into the pipes every twenty-four hours while the city was dry.

About Transfers.

The appellate term of the New York supreme court has just held that a passenger is not required to ask for a transfer when paying his fare on a trolley car, but may ask for it at any time during his ride, and it must be given him.

Sanitation Hints.

Good sanitation for 1906 should be your motto.

Clean your premises, keep them clean and sprinkle with lime.

Screen your doors and windows and keep out the house-fly, the most dangerous of pests. It carries disease and infection.

The most effective money spent in advertising Paducah will be that spent in cleaning and draining it. Every citizen can help to do this, in their own way.

No mosquitoes, no malaria. A clean city no danger of yellow fever and typhoid.

A Central Park for a good morning breath.

Malaria Causes Loss of Appetite. The Old Standard Grove's Tasteless Chilli Tonic drives out malaria and builds up the system. Sold by all dealers for 27 years. Price 50c.

THREE HUNDRED LAMP CAPACITY

Light Committee and Board of Public Works Agree

City Lighting Plant Will Be Remodeled to Care for Lighting Streets.

JOHN W. HOLMES IN CHARGE.

The board of public works met with the joint light committee yesterday afternoon decided on the matter of improving the city electric lighting plant. It was decided to remodel the plant for a capacity of 300 lights.

Mayor Yeiser presented plans he received from George Edgar, of the Fort Wayne Electrical company, for 250 lamp capacity at a cost of from $8,500 to $9,000. The report was filed.

John W. Holmes presented his plans. They provided for the use of the present engine and boilers and fixed the capacity of the plant at 250 lamps. The maximum estimated cost was $13,700 for the improvements. The plan under this plan will last 20 years. The report was received and filed.

Supt. Keebler, of the light plant, presented a report providing for the improvement of the plant by adding new boilers engines and machinery at a cost not exceeding $9,000 for a 250 lamp capacity.

After discussing the matter thoroughly it was decided to remodel the plant for 300 lamp capacity. Engineer Holmes, who was employed to prepare plans and superintend the work, was so instructed and will begin work at once.

The Paducah Light and Power company was granted permission to change several poles in the city.

The committee then adjourned.

A Woman's Reason.

"Yes, the new woman policeman caught the burglar as he came out of the window."

"She arrested him, of course?"

"No, she didn't. She took him under the street lamp and then let him go."

"Why did she do that?"

"She said he was too handsome to be locked up."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

W. C. T. U. Should Favor Beer.

Miss Phoebe Cousins Speaks Plainly and to the Point On Temperance.

Every day seems to bring us nearer a sane, sensible, and practical solution of the temperance question in the U. S. More than one noted speaker and thinker have of late shown a leaning to a practical rather than a theoretical effort to aid in the cause of temperance. One of the most noted women of our day and age, is Miss Phoebe Cousins, for a quarter of a century the leader in the woman's suffrage movement in the west. She recently said: "There never will be a law to compel prohibition and the sensible thing for the Women's Christian Temperance Union to do is to aid in the substitution of mild, nourishing drinks like beer which seldom produces drunkenness."

This broad assertion may bring a storm of criticism from the fanatical upon this devoted woman's head but in the end the living truth of her words will prevail. She is borne out in her statement by statistics. It has been clearly shown that with the increased use of malt beverages in this country there has been a corresponding decrease in intemperance.

Recently a prominent army officer in the west operated canteens at three different army posts at which only beer was sold—no alcoholic liquors whatever were allowed. He made the canteens so acceptable to the soldiers, who found beer satisfying their demands, that he actually ran all the low dives out of business. Yet it was through the efforts of the W. C. T. U. that the army canteens were driven out. Let us hope the many noble women comprising the W. C. T. U. will be broad-minded enough to recognize their mistake and join Miss Cousins and others who are sincerely striving to stem the tide of intemperance by the substitution of mild, harmless beer for strong drink. In this connection it might be well to mention that chemical analysis shows Pabst Blue Ribbon Beer, which is perhaps the best known of all bottled beers, to contain only a fraction over three per cent alcohol—as one eminent physician puts it, "just enough for a good tonic effect to the stomach, while in food value it is far superior on account of the Pabst exclusive eight-day process of making malt."

NATIONAL CIGAR STANDS

The Economy of a Straight Line

The National Cigar Stands Company is an easy, uninterrupted, straight-line channel between tobacco planter and cigar smoker.

The tobacco makes only one stop on the way—at the factory where it is turned into cigars. It pays only one small fare for the whole trip.

It used to go in a roundabout way, from planter to leaf-broker, from broker to cigar-maker, from cigar-maker to cigar-jobber, from cigar-jobber to retailer, from retailer to you. It paid a fare—that is, another profit—at every stage.

The National Cigar Stands' plan saves four stages and four fares. That is why the cigars sold by them give

COMING HOME

EVERY TRAIN BRINGS CROWDS FROM FAR AWAY STATES.

Louisville in Gala Attire to Welcome the Returned Wanderers to State.

Louisville, Ky., June 12.—Everywhere over the city there is a preparation for Home-coming week. Many of the business buildings in the business section have been decorated, and flags and bunting adorn many of the residences throughout the city. The armory at Sixth and Walnut streets, where most of the public exercises will be held, is tastily decorated in many colors.

Every train coming into the city is filled with visitors. The trains from Chicago and St. Louis were crowded to their capacity and the hotels are rapidly filling up.

The first organized party to reach here was from far-away Los Angeles. It was headed by Col. J. Marion Brooks, and was accompanied by Mrs. Nancy Nevin, 75 years of age. Former Gov. Preston H. Leslie, 80 years old is on his way from Montana. Miss Louise Lee Hardin, who suggested the idea of the home-coming, arrived today from Denver, Col. She will be accorded special honors during the week. The exercises open Wednesday with a general welcome to all ex-Kentuckians.

Changes in British Views.

"Too many influences spoil the British," might be adopted as a proverb. Within the last quarter of a century the American woman has considerably altered the character of her British sister; the American business man has greatly changed that of his equivalent in England; the French have accustomed us to an attitude of mind which would have horrified our parents, and the Germans have introduced their military spirit into a country which has always been opposed to a large standing army.—London Graphic.

Talked Baseball.

John Eberlin, known as the "man of mystery," because he would never tell whence he came or anything about his family connections, was found dead in his room in St. Louis. He would talk only baseball and politics when not at work.

WATER FREEZES; FIRE RAGES.

Big Cakes of Ice Found in Ruins of Factory Burned to Ground.

Hopkinsville, Ky., June 12.—In the ruins of the ice factory here, which was destroyed by fire yesterday, there were found today 320 full-sized cakes of ice. Just before the fire started 320 cans filled with water were lowered into the tank of brine beneath the floor of the freezing process. The water was transformed into cakes of ice as perfect as though it had been frozen under ordinary conditions instead of in the mids of a fire which swept over the area of two and one-half acres. Countless numbers of fish were killed during the fire by water which was thrown on tobacco ware houses, became impregnated with nicotine and ran into the river through the sewers.

What Is a Stink?

Washington, D. C., June 12.—Dr. Neill was the star witness at the meat inspection inquiry. Neill insisted that the "stinking odor" he spoke of was the odor of decayed meat.

"What do you mean by 'stinking'?" asked Chairman Wadsworth. "One would infer you meant a horrible, rotten, stinking condition."

"That's what it was," said the witness.

Neill's definition of "stink" was "when a thing smells so loud you can't call it smell, then it stinks."

Tree Falls on Her.

Miss Ione M. Bunn was killed in Newburg, N. Y., by a tree falling on her head during a storm.

NO MORE NEGLIGENCE.

Women and Children Must Wear More Clothes.

Pittsburg, Pa., June 12.—Frank Ridgeway, the new director of the department of public safety, has drawn the wrath of thousands of people of Pittsburg on his head, by an order that the mothers and children in the tenements must wear more clothes. The director's sense of decency has been grossly shocked by the sight of little children in the tenement district running about during the torrid weather clad only in gingham shifts, so he has issued an order to the police to arrest all persons who are not properly clothed.

Impure Food.

Kansas City, Mo., June 12.—"Fifty per cent of the deaths that occur in this country are the direct result of impure and dishonest foods. The packers are not alone to blame. It is practically impossible to get any pure food in this country," said Harry B. Walsley, champion of pure food in the last legislature, and for fifteen years inspector for the Missouri underwriters. He has been in every room of every packing house in this state many times.

Matter of Practice.

CAR STRIKES HEAD AND CUTS TO SKULL

A Fulton Man Does Not Heed Warning in Time.

Taken to Hospital Where His Severe Wound Is Dressed—Condition
Not Serious.

STANDING NEAR COAL CHUTE,

John Henderson, of Fulton, about 40 years old, was struck in the head by a coal car at the Paducah coal chute this morning shortly after 8 o'clock and his scalp was split down the center as neatly as if a surgeon had performed the operation. Henderson is thought now to be seriously injured, but his escape from instant death was miraculous.

Henderson's scalp was split from the middle of the top of the head to the nose and the skull bared for an area of four square inches. Little blood came from the wound, the skin being torn away from the bone.

The unfortunate man is a laborer and was walking by the track in the south yards at the lead to the coal chute. Two switch engines were working in the yards, one coming from the depot to the yards and a second pushing a string of five loaded coal cars up the chute. Henderson was watching the former and was warned by employees to look out for the second engine, which was pushing the cars up the chute. He turned just in time to collide with the corner of the car. He fell, but the blow fortunately knocked him away from the wheels and he escaped possible death.

A box car was secured and the injured man was taken to the hospital, the transfer to the ambulance being made at Eleventh street and Broadway.

The train which struck Henderson was in charge of Engineer A. W. Shepherd and Foreman Frank Morthland.

He is single and says he has no relatives in Fulton. He is a laborer.

Henderson's condition at noon had grown worse. He is suffering from concussion, and over his right eye it was found that his skull was crushed. Surgeons removed several pieces of bone and replaced the scalp nicely. It is thought that Henderson's wound will heal.

WILL CONTEST.

Minority of Stockholders Oppose Cleveland's Plans.

New York, June 12.—The plan worked out by Grover Cleveland, Paul Morton and Thomas F. Ryan for the mutualization of the Equitable Life Assurance society is to be contested in the courts by several of the minority stockholders of the company. The contest will be based upon the constitutionality of section fifty-two of the insurance laws as revised by the Armstrong legislative committee. This section was especially amended to permit the mutualization of the Equitable.

AUTO TRAP

Kills Son of Millionaire and Injures Companion.

Cleveland, June 12.—A trap set by a farmer for speeding automobilists caused the death of Morris Osborne, 18 years old, son of F. M. Osborne, former president of the Pittsburgh Coal company, and millionaire coal and steamship man, near Wickliffe, east of here, late this afternoon. His companion, W. T. Robinson, may lose an eye.

As a result of the accident, Dr. Osborne charged the farmer who built the obstruction across the road with the killing of his son.

SCHOOL TRUSTEES ELECT TEACHERS

Deadlock Over English Department Leaves Vacancy.

Salaries of High School Instructors
Increased $5 the Month All Around.

COLORED SCHOOLS OMITTED.

The school board met in adjourned session last night to elect teachers. All white teachers were re-elected except Miss Emma Morgan, the board tying on this position. Miss Margaret Hall, a teacher in the Danville, Ky., college, being her opponent.

All members were present and the first business was that of settling bills for commencement and other expenses attending the closing of school.

The matter of salaries was quickly settled. The salaries in the primary and grammar grades are to remain the same, the salaries being fixed by the standing of the teacher. Salaries of the four departmental teachers in the High school have been $66, and the master of science $75. After several attempts to raise the amount, the board settled the question by raising each salary $5 per month, giving the departmental teacher $71 and the science teacher $80 a month.

The school committee presented a report of recommendation of teachers to be elected. The list reads:

Subject to examination:
Misses Ellen Willis, Flora McKee, Addie Byrd, Ernestine Aims, Hattie Sherwin, Anna D. Smith, Laura Thomas, Myrtle Baky, Rose Flournoy, Nannie Cullon, Audy Taylor, Mrs. Kate Stuart, Mr. J. E. Coleman.

Not Subject to Examination.

Miss Mannah Bonds, Mrs. Fannie Taylor, Misses Susie Atchison, Flora McKee, Mabel Mitchell, Ella Larkin, Jessie Rook, Lucy More, Ester Boyd, Lillie Burdine, Belle Ford, Mrs. Ellen Wilcox, Misses Lizzie Singleton, Mabel Roberts, Jessie Robbins, Ethel Mitchell, Mrs. Anna K. Branderson, Misses Lora Brandon, Catherine Thomas, Anna Larkin, Eleanor Wright, Margaret Acker, Ollie Wilson, Carry Blythe, Mary O. Murray, Mary Gray Cummins, Louise C. Diederich, Emma Acker, Katie White, Adah Brazelton, Marian Noble, Margaret Hall, Mr. C. L. Woodbury.

The following report was submitted following the submission of the above committee report:

To the President and Honorable Board of Education:

I respectfully submit to your honorable board the following minority report and ask that you give it your consideration.

I do not endorse the selection of Miss Hall and Mr. Coleman as teachers in the public schools, to take the places of teachers to be dropped without cause or charges.

I want to protest to the summary dropping of Miss Emma Morgan's name from the list of recommendations for re-election.

Miss Morgan has been too long in the service of our educational system to be treated in this manner. She has gained the love and esteem of thousands of our best citizens and their children, she has gained an almost national reputation for brilliancy and efficiency as an instructor. Many of our young men and women, who stand high in the social and mercantile world, owe their success to the able instruction of Miss Morgan.

Furthermore Miss Morgan is a Paducah girl and we all know her character is unapproachable, she is beloved by old and young.

Judging by the number of advocates for her cause, she is one of the most popular teachers in the city and indicates the sentiment of the people, which we dare not ignore.

I hereby respectfully recommend Miss Emma Morgan to your honorable board and ask that her petition for re-election to her old place be favorably considered by you.

The other teachers named in the list of recommendations I also respectfully ask to be considered by the honorable board of education.

ANTHONY LIST,
Member of Committee of Examination and Course of Study.

Paducah, Ky., June 11th 1906.

Speeches followed and Miss Morgan's position was thrown out of the report and the report adopted, all teachers whose names appear on the list being elected.

Miss Morgan's position was then taken up and Miss Morgan and Miss Margaret Hall placed on nomination. After many ballots the board adjourned, it being seen that an election was impossible at this time. The vote stood 6 to 6. Miss Morgan's supporters being Trustees Beckenbaugh, Byrd, Karnes, Davis, List and Morris. Miss Hall's supporters were Trustees Williamson, Potter, Pitcher, Welston, Gallman and Troutman.

In the excitement the election of colored teachers was overlooked and will be held at the next regular meeting.

Four old teachers did not apply for positions. They are Misses Virginia Johnson, Jessie Byrd, Blanche Moore and Professor K. Rudolph. J. S. Coleman has been elected to the position occupied by Prof. Rudolph, but the other three positions remain unoccupied.

Daily Thought.

"Grief, anxiety and fear are the great enemies of human life, and should be resisted as we resist the plague. Cheerfulness is their antidote."

"Thirty-nine people have been shot and stabbed to death in Graves county in the last ten years. More than nine-tenths of these were shot by persons who were in the habit of violating the law against carrying concealed pistols about his person," says the Mayfield Monitor.

It is altogether probable that the immediate relatives of the deceased have joined the ranks of the "ultra anti-pistol toters," but it is equally probable that the remaining citizens of Graves county are indifferent to the subject. Otherwise, the "pistol toters" would compose but an inconsiderable element of the lower grades of society. "Pistol toting" will flourish just as long as society tolerates it, and will vanish when society enforces the ban of ostracism against the fellow who carries a deadly weapon concealed about his person.
Thieves and cowards and bullies, we may always expect to go thus armed.
It is their distinguishing mark. But let the Monitor and other newspaper keep up the warfare and public sentiment will accomplish what the legislature and the courts have failed to do.

The Sun is offering a prize for the most beautiful yard in each ward and a capital prize for the most beautiful in the city. The Sun has but one object in making this offer: That is, to stimulate interests of citizens in the work of evolving the "city beautiful." This idea has been greatly forwarded by the example set by the county authorities in the court yard improvements, and we have the word of florists that this spring has seen an unprecedented demand for garden flowers. While many citizens already have torn down their fences and spent time and money on their lawns, it is up to the rest of us to emulate their example. Let us have the lawns and yards looking fresh and green when the Home-Comers arrive Tuesday, so they can return to their new homes and tell of the garden spot in West Kentucky.

In Hungary a well-known sportsman, who insulted a bank clerk, received 151 challenges to fight. He made one general apology and got out of 150 duels. It seems probable that such an able apologist will succeed in avoiding the remaining duel with the 150 apologies he has left.

Louisville, exemplifying that good old maxim, where there's a will, there's a way, has found an original method of keeping on the lid. The town was closed Sunday but, according to the Courier-Journal, the side doors were open and nobody suffered with thirst.

A man died in St. Louis Sunday, and he was credited with being mysterious because he never would talk about anything but baseball in public. St. Louis must be a poor baseball town.

Spain spent $10,000,000 on King Alfonso's wedding. Guess that will give some of the members of the New racy.

The Health in Summer.

The best way to keep in good health in the summer is to pay just a little attention to the body physically, and, by proper attention to diet and nature's warnings, avoid sickness.

More and more each year the profession is getting away from the theory of always dosing for disease, as a cure and a preventative, and prescribing natural treatments. We are thus getting closer to nature, and nature, as a restorer of the spent vigor and health is coming into its right and just recognition.

The bath as one of the aids to nature is now given its due credit and attention. In the warm summer season the cold bath in the morning imparts vigor and starts the day off with a tonic effect. It stimulates the body and tempers the blood, and, when followed by the warm bath at evening, keeps the system in excellent condition for the trials of warm weather.

One of, if not the greatest baths science has developed is the dry hot air treatment. In this the temperature can be run up to 300 degrees, but, by a process which gives a free circulation of air through the machine, the heat is never oppressive.
This treatment opens thoroughly the pores of the most obstinate skin and puts it in good condition, and by the perspiration assists nature in eliminating the impurities from the system.

The after effects of the treatment is invigorating. Instead of being the least depressive, they are tonic, and for the tired-down worn-out system, it is a wonderful rejuvenator. Especially is this so, when the treatment is followed by the osteopathic treatment.

I am giving these treatments with marked success, and shall be pleased to tell you how and why it is such in a few moments, as well as refer you

HELD OVER

NEGROES IDENTIFIED BY FER-GUSON AS HIS ROBBERS.

He Claims They Are the Persons, in Spite of Their Protest to the Contrary.

James Vanhorn and Will Williams, the negroes who were arrested yesterday for the alleged robbery of Ferguson, of the Maxon's Mill section, were this morning held over in police court to the grand jury under bond of $500, which they failed to give.

The negroes protested their innocence but identification was positive and the court could do nothing less than hold them over. Ferguson stated that they were the two who committed the robbery in broad open day light. Even the prisoners' dress was identical with the description given before they were arrested. Ferguson was held up near the foot of Jefferson day morning.

Trade of United States With Japan is Larger Than With Any Other Oriental.

Trade of the United States with Japan is larger than with any other oriental country, and aggregated in 1905 106 million dollars. The exports to Japan have grown from a little more than 5 million dollars in the calendar year 1895 to over 55 millions in 1905, being more than ten times as great in 1905 as in 1895. The imports from Japan also show a material increase, having been 27 1-2 million dollars in 1895 and nearly 51 millions in 1905. The gain in exports to Japan, comparing 1905 with 1895 is not quite so rapid as in those to China, but the growth in imports from Japan is much more rapid than in those from China. In the period from 1895 to 1905 the exports to Japan increased 45 million dollars, and those to China increased practically 55 millions. During the same period imports from Japan increased 23 million dollars, while those from China increased but about 6 millions.

The articles which make up the large and rapidly growing total of American exports to Japan are more widely diversified than in the trade with China. The chief articles in the exports to Japan and their values in the fiscal year 1905 were raw cotton, practically 17 million dollars; manufactures of iron and steel, about 10 million dollars; flour, 5 millions, leather, 5 millions; mineral oil, nearly 3 millions; provisions, including meat, butter, condensed milk, and canned foods of various kinds, about 2 millions; cotton cloths a little over 1 million; copper a little over 1 million, and breadstuffs other than flour, a little over 1 million.

Is Lots of Gush in Britain's Friendship for United States.

New York, June 12.—"I think there is a good deal of gush about it," said Bishop Potter today, referring to the supposed friendliness in England toward the United States. Bishop Potter, with Mrs. Potter, had just returned from a long visit to Europe and Egypt, and on the way up from quarantine, discussing the consular service and Anglo-American relations, intimated that the cordiality between England and the United States had not that depth and reality which speakers at international gatherings attribute to it. "Do you think as a result of the insurance and beef revelations that they think in Great Britain that we are a lot of 'graffers'?"
the bishop was asked. "Well, the more acute thinkers do not believe that of us," he said, "but they do think we are easily tempted by the prospect of gain. They believe an American can only see what is on top. You can depend upon it that, generally speaking, there is no love lost between the two countries. You know prosperity is not a promoter of love." Bishop Potter was asked what he meant when in a recent address at a dinner of the Pilgrims in London, he said the "American eagle was going about the streets of Cairo with its tail between its legs." "I think I had in mind a circumstance that has irritated other Americans—advertising on the American flag. The only outward and beautiful signs of America in Egypt are these flags thus desecrated, as contrasted with the splendid achievements of Great Britain in the country."

Pretty Wedding This Morning.

The wedding of Miss Jessie Byrd to Mr. William Matthew Alexander, of Lexington, Miss., this morning at 8 o'clock at the Broadway Methodist church, was a beautiful ceremonial characterized by the charm of simplicity. Park Line Accident.

The park line was tied up by two cars jumping the track last night. Number 92 with two trailers got off at the cattle guard opposite the ball park. The cars were crowded with passengers going to the park. No. 94 with two trailers on the return trip, ran off the track at the fair grounds switch. No. 90 broke down at the power house.

IS THIS WHAT AILS YOU?

If the Symptoms Fit Your Case, Remember "A Disease Once Known is Half Cured."

Feel feverish? Have headache? Backache? In fact, "ache all over"? Have occasional chilly sensations? Appetite gone? Tongue furred? Bad taste, especially in morning? Bad, foul breath? Perhaps nausea, or "sickness at stomach" occasionally? Feel weak, tired, blue and discouraged?

The above are symptoms common to stomach and liver derangements and often precede attacks of fever and malarious affections, grip, bronchitis, and "lung fever," or pneumonia.

Which ever ailment they point to, you may be sure that it is best to get rid of them as soon as possible by putting your system to rights, regulating, toning up and invigorating stomach, liver and bowels, and thus purifying your blood and system and enabling it to throw off the attack.

For the above purpose, medical science has as yet produced no better agent than Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It is not a secret, or patent medicine, all its ingredients being printed on the bottle wrapper. It is the prescription of a well-known and experienced physician. It contains no alcohol or other harmful, habit-forming agents—chemically pure, triple-refined glycerine being used both as a solvent and preservative of the medicinal extracts of which it is composed.

It is made from the following native, American medicinal roots: Golden Seal root, Queen's root, Stone root, Bloodroot, Mandrake root and Black Cherry bark. The medicinal properties of these are extracted by exact and peculiar processes with the use of chemically pure, triple-refined glycerine, of proper strength, and by means of apparatus and appliances devised for this special purpose, and in such a way as to produce a most perfect pharmaceutical compound.

As to the superior curative properties of some of the above ingredients, we can only give room here for a very few of the briefest extracts from standard medical works, but more complete information will be sent you, free of charge, in pamphlet form, if you will send your address, plainly written on postal card or by letter, to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., with a request for the same.

Of Golden Seal root Prof. Bartholow, of Jefferson Medical College, says: "Very useful as a stomachic tonic (stomach tonic) and in atonic (weak stomach) dyspepsia. Cures gastric catarrh (catarrh of stomach) and headaches accompanying the same." * * * Chronic catarrh of the intestines, even if it has proceeded to ulceration, is remarkably benefited by Hydrastis (Golden Seal). * * * It may be given as a remedy for intermittent, chronic and malarial poisoning, and enlarged spleen of malarial origin.

From "Organic Medicines," by Grover (M. D., of New York, we extract the following: "Hydrastis (Golden Seal) exercises an especial influence over mucous surfaces. Upon the liver it acts with equal certainty and efficacy. As a cholagogue (liver invigorator), it has few equals. In affections of the spleen, and abdominal viscera generally, it is an efficient and reliable remedy. Also in scrofula, glandular diseases generally, cutaneous eruptions, indigestion, acidity, diarrhoea and dysentery, constipation, piles and all morbid and critical discharges."

Dr. Coe further says: "Hydrastis (Golden Seal) is also of inestimable value in the treatment of chronic derangements of the liver. It seems to exercise an especial influence over the hepatic (liver) structure generally, resolving (dissolving) biliary deposits, removing obstructions, promoting secretions, and giving tone to the various functions. It is eminently cholagogue (liver accelerator), and may be relied upon for the relief of hepatic (liver) torpor."

Prof. John M. Scudder, M. D., of Cincinnati, says of Golden Seal: "It stimulates the digestive processes and increases the assimilation of food. By these means the blood is enriched. * * * In relation to its general effects on the system, there is no medicine in use about which there is such general unanimity of opinion. It is universally regarded as the tonic useful in all debilitated states."

As to Stone root, the AMERICAN DISPENSARY says: "In diseases of stomach and intestines—improves appetite, promotes flow of gastric juice; tonic effect upon organs involved. A good remedy in indigestion, dyspepsia, chronic gastritis, increasing the secretion from kidneys and skin."

Prof. Finley Ellingwood, M. D., of Bennett Medical College, Chicago, says of Stone root: "In catarrhal gastritis (inflammation of stomach) where the circulation is defective, it either alone or combined with hydrastis, is of first importance. They increase the appetite and greatly improve the digestion and assimilation of food. * * * Is a heart tonic of direct and permanent influence. Excellent in the bicycle heart, in rheumatic inflammation and clergyman's sore throat."

the other ingredients entering into the composition of "Golden Medical Discovery" are equally praised for their curative effects in all stomach, liver and bowel affections and free of them for bronchial, throat and lung affections attended with severe cough, expectoration and kindred symptoms.

But you had best read for yourself the "words of praise" written concerning each and every ingredient of this marvelously efficacious medicine by leading medical practitioners and writers. This you can do by writing for the booklet mentioned in the preceding column. No other medicine for like purposes has any such professional endorsement as "Golden Medical Discovery," which should have more weight than all the ordinary testimonials so lavishly flaunted before the public by those who are afraid to publish their formulae that the search light of investigation may be turned upon them. It is well to know what one takes into the stomach whether in the form of food, drink or medicine.

From the same little book of extracts mentioned above it will readily be seen why Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription works such marvelous cures in those chronic and distressing diseases peculiar to women. In all cases of pelvic catarrh with weakening drains, bearing or "dragging-down" pains or distress, and in all monthly or periodical derangements and irregularities, the "Favorite Prescription" will be found to be made of just the right ingredients to meet and cure the trouble.

Your druggist sells the "FAVORITE PRESCRIPTION" and also the "GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY." Write to Dr. Pierce about your case. He is an experienced physician and will treat your case as confidential and without charge for correspondence. Address him as directed in preceding column.

It is as easy to be well as ill—and much more comfortable. Constipation is the cause of many forms of illness. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation. They are tiny, sugar-coated granules. One little "Pellet" is a gentle laxative, two a mild cathartic. All dealers in medicines sell them.

Dr. Pierce's 1000-page illustrated book, "The Common Sense Medical Adviser," is sent free in paper covers or receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to pay the cost of mailing only. For 31 stamps the cloth-bound volume will be sent. It was formerly sold for $1.50 per copy. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

PLAY THEIR LAST

CARD FOR POLICE

The Commissioners Recommend Thirty Men.

General Council Probably Will Receive and File Communication With Records.

PROCEEDINGS OF THE MEETING.

In the opinion of the members of the board of police and fire commissioners, the have played their last card in petitioning the general council to increase the police force to a total of 30 men.

The general council probably will receive and file the petition and that will be an end to it for one year.

The general council considered the police question at the beginning of the present fiscal year and decided that the force was larger than necessity demanded. It cut down the number of patrolmen and made an appropriation to provide for the pay of the reduced force. Then the administration went to the legislature and had the state authorities fix the number of policemen Paducah must employ. This law went into effect Monday, but the apportionment for the year had been made previous to the enactment of the law. Under the charter the general council increases or decreases the police force on petition of the board of police and fire commissioners. The latter has nothing to do with fixing the number of men in the department. A legislative body can not be reached by proceedings in mandamus, so it looks as though the citizens will not have to pay for the extra policemen this year.

The board of fire and police commissioners met last night in regular session and adopted a resolution requesting the municipal boards to pass an ordinance providing for a police force of 25 patrolmen, one chief, lieutenant, captain and two plain clothes men. The resolution is to be presented to the boards at the next meeting. This means that the commissioners intend to put on thirty men in accordance with the legislative act providing that cities of the second class must have a force of not less than thirty men.

Rector David Wright appeared before the commissioners and requested the co-operation of the board in assisting in driving the ill-famed resorts from Kentucky avenue. He desires to convert it into park. No action was taken.

William Leonard and Russell Hughes were elected stationmen in the fire department, Chief Wood to assign them to their posts. They succeeded Syd Gilbert and Harvey Allen, resigned.

An Omission.

A well-known Boston writer tells, with glee, of a neat sally on the part of his 9-year-old son, who is a pupil in a private school at the Hub.

Apologues of something or other, the teacher had quoted the line, "In the bright lexicon of youth there's no such word as fail."

At this point the lad mentioned arose and politely made known his desire to offer an observation with reference to the maxim.

"It occurs to me, sir," said he, "that if such be the case, it might be advisable to bring the omission to the attention of the publishers of the lexicon."—Harper's Weekly.

PLEASURE LAUNCH

FOR SCHOOL WORK

Supt. Lieb Has a Fine Little Craft Built.

Will Take Athletic Teams and Botanical Expeditions Across the River.

IS FIRED HOYER'S HANDIWORK.

Supt. C. M. Lieb has for over a year been quietly working on a matter which will create a great deal of pleasant surprise to pupils in the schools when it is sprung. It is a launch and the craft will be finished in a few weeks and fitted out with motive power. Before the summer is half over the launch will be in the river in actual service.

The boat was built here, every lick of the carpenter work being done by Fred Hoyer, superintendent of buildings of the schools, but it was done on his "own time."

Patterns for the craft with all necessary drawings were secured and the work of building the hull was started nearly a year ago. This morning it was finished except the caulking and trimmings. It is 24 feet long and 54 inches wide. It is perfectly built.

Supt. Lieb has secured a six horse power gasoline engine and as soon as the painting, caulking and trimmings are finished he will have the engine installed. An eighteen inch propeller will be used, and the launch will doubtless be as fast as anything on the river in the pleasure boat line.

Supt. Lieb's idea is to have a boat not only for his own pleasure but for service in taking school parties across the river fishing, hunting and on botanical expeditions, and also the baseball team and tennis team to Metropolis or Cairo whenever dates for contests are secured.

NEW TREATMENT.

London Physician Aids White Corpuscles Do Their Work.

London, June 12.—Theosophic treatment for consumption is the most recent discovery of medical science to arouse the interest of the general public. A department is specially devoted to this study in a London hospital, where some 990 tests are made every week. The treatment is based upon the known function of white blood corpuscles, which is to assimilate and carry away diseased bacilli, but if certain organisms in the human body termed opsonins are not present in sufficient strength, the white corpuscles are unable to perform their function, and the disease makes headway accordingly. By a microscopical examination, if possible, it is determined whether the patient's power of resistance to micro-organisms—that is, richness in opsonins—is above or below the average. If it is below the average, serums made of dead bacteria of the same variety as those causing the disease are injected, with the result that the patient's own body stimulates the manufacture of opsonin in which it is deficient.

Raking Grass After Mowing.

Some persons advise raking after each mowing. I do not, because the clippings drop down into the grass and form a mulch, which I consider of great benefit. They also help to fertilize the soil.

The lawn that is not mowed often enough will not look well after you have been over it with the mower, because there was growth enough to partially hide the sward upon which it falls. This will wither and turn brown in a day or two and greatly detract from the beauty of the lawn. But if you keep your lawn well mowed—and that means going over it at least three times a week in ordinary seasons—the amount chopped off at each mowing will be so slight that there will not be enough of it to show. Let the knife blades be set high enough to leave at least two inches of the foliage.—Outing Magazine.

You cannot induce a lower animal to eat heartily when not feeling well. A sick dog starves himself, and gets well. The stomach, once overworked, must have rest the same as your feet or eyes. You don't have to starve to rest your stomach. KODOL FOR DYSPEPSIA takes up the work for your stomach, digests what you eat and gives it a rest. Put it back in condition again. You can't feel good with a disordered stomach. Try Kodol. Sold by Lang Bros.

THE MAN ON THE BOX

By HAROLD MacGRATH

Author of "The Gray Clerk," "The Puppet Game"

Copyright, 1904, The Bobbs-Merrill Company.

Toward the wall Pirate directed his course. Warburton threw back his full weight. The effort had little or no effect on Pirate's mouth. His rider remembered about the tree, but the nearest was many yards away. Over the wall they went and down the field. Pirate tried to get his head down but he received a check. Score one for the man. Warburton, his legs stiffened in the stirrups, his hands well down, his breath coming in gasps, wondered where they would finally land. He began to use his knees and Pirate felt the pressure. He didn't like it at all. Oddly enough, Warburton's leg did not bother him as he expected it would, and this gave him confidence. On, on; the dull pounding of Pirate's feet, the flying sod, the wind in his face; and when he saw the barb-wire fence, fear entered into him. An inch too low, a stumble and serious injuries might result. He must break Pirate's gait.

He began to saw cow-boy fashion. Pirate grew indignant: he was being hurt. His speed slackened none, however; he was determined to make that fence if it was the last thing he ever did. He'd like to see any man stop him. He took the deadly fence as with the wings of a bird. But he found that the man was still on his back. He couldn't understand it. He grew worried. And then he struck the red-brown muck bordering the stream. The muck flew, but at every bound Pirate sank deeper, and the knees of his rider were beginning to tell. Warburton, full of rage, yet not unreasonable, quickly saw his chance. Once more he threw back his weight: this time to the left. Pirate's head came stubbornly around; his gait was broken, he was floundering in the stream. Now Warburton used his heels savagely. He shortened the reins and whacked Mr. Pirate soundly across the ears. Pirate plunged and reared, and after devious evolutions, reached solid ground. This time his head was high in the air, and try as he would, he could not lower his neck a solitary inch.

Warburton knew that the animal could not make the barb-wire fence again, so he waltzed him along till he found a break in the wire. Over this Pirate bounded, snorting. But he had met a master. Whether he reared or plunged, waltzed or ran, he could not make those ruthless knees relent in their pressure. He began to understand what all beasts understand, sooner or later—the inevitable mastery of man. There was blood in his nostrils. A hand touched his neck caressingly. He shook his head; he refused to condescend. A voice, kindly but rather breathless, addressed him. Again Pirate shook his head; but he did not run, he cantered. Warburton gave a sigh of relief. Over the field they went. A pull to the left, and Pirate wheeled; a pull to the right, and again Pirate answered, and cantered in a circle. He was mastered.

After this Warburton did as he pleased; Pirate had learned his lesson. His master put him through a dozen maneuvers, and he was vastly satisfied with the victory. He had conquered the horse before the eyes of one woman.

He guided Pirate close to the wall and stopped him, looked down into the girl's wonder-lit eyes and smiled cheerfully. And what is more she smiled faintly in acknowledgement. He had gained, in the guise of a groom, what he might never have gained in any other condition of life, the girl's respect and admiration. Though a thorough woman of the world, high-bred, well-born, she forgot for the moment to control her features; and as I have remarked elsewhere, Warburton was a shrewd observer.

"Bully Mr. Osborn!" shouted William leaping down. "It was simply great!"

"There are some bars farther down" said the girl, quietly. "William, run and open them."

Warburton flushed slightly. He could not tell how she had accomplished it, whether it was the tone or the gesture, but she had calmly re-established the barrier between mistress and servant.

"I think I'll put him to the wall again," said the hero, seized by a rebel spirit.

He wheeled Pirate about and sent him back at a run. Pirate balked. Round he went again, down the field and back. This time he cleared the wall with a good foot to spare. The victory was complete.

When it was all over, and Pirate was impatiently munching an extra supply of oats, the girl bade Mr. James to report early the following morning.

"I hope I shall please you Madam," "Address me as Miss Annesley from now on," she said; and nodding shortly, she entered the house.

To Warburton, half the pleasure of the victory was gone; for not a word of praise had she given him. Yet, she had answered his smile. Well, he had made a lackey out of himself; he had no right to expect anything but $40 a month and orders.

He broke his word with me. He did not return to the house that night for dinner. In fact, he deliberately sent for his things, explaining that he was called north and wouldn't have time to see them before he left. It took all my persuasive oratory to smooth the troubled waters and then there were areas upon which my oil had no effect whatever.

"He is perfectly heartless!" cried Nancy. "He couldn't go to the embassy, but he could steal away and play poker all night with a lot of idling army officers. And now he is going off to Canada without even seeing us to say good-by. Charlie, there is something back of all this."

"I'll bet it's a woman," said Jack, throwing a scrutinizing glance at me. But I was something of a diplomat myself, and he didn't catch me napping. "Here's a telegram for him, too."

"I think I'll take the liberty of opening it," said I. I knew its contents. It was the reply Warburton had depended on. I read it aloud. It is good to have friends of this sort. No question was asked. It was a bald order: "Come up at once and shoot carbou. Take first train."

"Bob's a jackass," was Jack's commentary. I had heard something like it before, that day. "He'll turn up all right,"—and Jack lit a cigar and picked up his paper.

"And Betty Annesley is going to call to-morrow night," said Nancy, her voice overflowing with reproach. Her eyes even sparkled with tears. "I did so want them to meet."

I called myself a villain. But I had given my promise; and I was in love myself.

"I don't see what we can do. When Bob makes up his mind to do anything, he generally does it," Jack, believing he had demolished the subject opened his Morning Post and fell to studying the latest phases of the Venezuelan muddle.

Nancy began to cry softly; she loved the scallawag as only sisters know how to love. And I became possessed with two desires: to console her and to punch Mr. Robert's head.

"It has always been this way with him," Nancy went on, dabbling her eyes with her two-by-four handkerchief. "We never dreamed that he was going to the army till he came home one night and announced that he had successfully passed his examinations for West Point. He goes and gets shot and we never know anything about it till we read the papers. Next, he resigns and goes abroad without a word or coming to see us. I don't know what to make of Bobby; I really don't."

I took her hand in mine and kissed it, and told her the rascal would turn up in due time, that they hadn't heard the last of him for that winter.

"He's only thoughtless and single-minded," I interposed.

"Single-minded!" I echoed.

"Why, yes. He gets one thing at a time in his brain, and thinks of nothing else till that idea is worn out. I know him."

I recalled my useless persuasion of the morning. "I believe you are right."

"Of course I'm right," replied Jack, turning a page of his paper. "Do you know where he has gone?"

"I think the telegram explains everything,"—evasively.

"Humph! Don't you worry about him Nan. I'll wager he's up to some of his old-time devilry."

These and other little observations Jack let fall made it plain to me that he was a natural student of men and their impulses and that his insight and judgment, unerring and anticipatory, had put him where he is to-day, at the head of a department.

"Father," said Betty Annesley at the dinner-table that same night, "I have engaged a new groom. He rode Pirate to-day and thoroughly mastered him."

"Pirate? You don't say! Well, I'm glad of that. Pirate will make a capital saddle-horse if he is ridden often enough. The groom will be a safe companion for you on your rides. Are you too tired to do some drawing for me to-night?"

"The fortification plans?"

"Yes." His eyes wandering from her face to the night outside. How gray and sad the world was! "You will always love your father, dearie?"

"Love him? Always!"

"Whatever betide for weal or woe?"

"Whatever betide."

How easy it was for her to say these words!

"And yet, some day, you must leave me to take up your abode in some other man's heart. My only wish is that it may beat for you as truly as mine does."

She did not reply, but stepped to the window and pressed her brow to the chilled pane. A yellow and purple line marked the path of the vanished sun; the million stars sparkled above; far away she could see the lights of the city.

Of what was she thinking, dreaming? Was she dreaming of heroes such as we poets and novelists invent and hang upon the puppet-beam? Ah, the pity of these dreams the young girl has! She dreams of heroes and of god-like men and of the one that is to come. But, ah; he never comes; and the dream fades and dies and the world becomes real. A man may find his ideal, but a woman, never. To youth, the fields of love; to man, the battle-ground; to old age, a chair in the sunshine and the wreck of dreams!

"The government ought to pay you well if those plans are successful," she moved away from the window.

"Yes, the government ought to pay me well. I should like to make you rich, dearie, and happy."

"Why daddy am I not both? I have more money than I know what to do with, and I am happy in having the kindest father." She came around the table and caressed him, cheek to cheek. "Money isn't everything. It just makes me happy to do anything for you."

His arm grew tense around her waist.

"Do you know what was running through my mind at the embassy last night? I was thinking how deeply I love this great wide country of mine. As I looked at the ambassador and his aides, I was saying to myself, 'You dare not!' It may have been silly, but I couldn't help it. We are the greatest people in the world. When I compared foreign soldiers with our own, how my heart and pride swelled! No formalities, no race prejudice, no false pride. I was never introduced to a foreign officer that I did not fear him, with his weak eyes, his affected mannerisms, his studied rudeness, not to me, but the country I represented. How I made some of them dance! Not for vanity's sake; rather the inborn patriotism of my race. I had only to think of my father, his honorable scars, his contempt for little things, his courage, his steadfastness, his love for his country, which has so honored him with its trust. Oh! I am a patriot; and I shall never, never marry a man whose love for his country does not equal my own."

She caught up her father's mutilated hand and kissed it. "And even now this father of mine is planning and planning to safeguard his country."

"But you must not say anything to a soul, my child; it must be a secret till all is ready. I met Karloff to-day at the club. He has promised to dine with us to-morrow night."

"Make him postpone it. I have promised to dine with Nancy Warburton."

"You had better dine with us and spend the evening with your friend. Do you not think him a handsome fellow?"

"He is charming." She touched the bowl of poppies with her fingers and smiled.

"He is very wealthy, too."

Betty offered no comment.

"What did they do to that infernal rascal who attempted to run away with you and Mrs. Chadwick?"

"He was arrested and locked up."

"I hope they will keep him there. And what reason did he give the police for attempting to run away with you?"

"He said that he had made a wager with some serving-maids to drive them from the embassy. He claims to have got the wrong number and the wrong carriage."

"A very likely story!"

"Yes, a very likely story!"—and Betty, still smiling, passed on into the music-room, where she took her violin from its case and played some rollicking measures from Offenbach.

At the same time her father arose and went out on the lawn, where he walked up and down, with a long, quick stride. From time to time a wailing note from the violin floated out to him, and he would stop and raise his haggard face toward heaven. His face was no longer masked in smiles; it was grief-stricken, self-abhorring. At length he softly crossed the lawn and stood before the music-room window. Ah, no fretting care sat on yonder face, nor pain, nor trouble; youth, only youth and some pleasant thought which the music had aroused. How like her mother! How like her mother!

Suddenly he smote himself on the brow with a clenched hand. "Wretch! God-forsaken wretch, how have you kept your trust? And how yonder child has stabbed you? My country! . . . My honor! . . . My courage and steadfastness! Mockery!"

CHAPTER XI.
THE FIRST RIDE.

The next morning Warburton was shown into a neat six-by-eight, just off the carriage-room. There was a cot, running water and a washstand, and a boot-blackening apparatus. For the rest there were a few portraits of fast horses, fighters, and toe-dancers (the adjective qualifying all three!) which the senator's sporting groom had collected and tacked to the walls. For appearance's sake, Mr. James had purchased a cheap trunk. Everything inside was new, too. His silver military brushes, his silver shaving set, and so forth and so forth, were in charge of a safe-deposit storage company, alongside some one's family jewels. The only incriminating things he retained were his signet-ring and his Swiss timepiece.

"Have you had your breakfast, sir?" asked William, the stable-boy.

"Yes, my lad. Now, as Miss Annesley has forgotten it, perhaps you will tell me of just what my duties here will consist."

PUT ON RECORD

MAYOR YEISER COMPELLED TO TAKE A STAND.

"Unpleasant Duty" But He Broke Deadlock in Board of Police and Fire Commissioners.

Mayor D. A. Yeiser was "put to record" last night during the meeting of the board of fire and police commissioners. It was in the election of a stationman and the vote was tied up. Mayor Yeiser did not desire to vote but found it necessary to break the deadlock.

Kelley Franklin and Russell Hughes were applicants for positions as stationmen in the fire department. Franklin was made an extra during the fall and was entitled to promotion. Some one filed a doctor's certificate saying that Franklin was not physically able to do the work. It came from City Physician Johnston Bass. Franklin's supporter, Commissioner Jesse Gilbert, filed two certificates, one from Dr. J. T. Reddick and another from Dr. J. W. Pendley, saying that Franklin was able to stand the work.

The two names were put in nomination and for some time there was something doing. Commissioners Clark and Bonds stood for Hughes and Gilbert and Sutherland for Franklin. The supporters of Hughes were asked why they refused to promote a man they elected, and Commissioner Clark stated that it was because Franklin was a Republican.

Mayor Yeiser was called upon to vote and voted for Hughes.

Russell Hughes and William Leonard, the two newly elected stationmen have been assigned to station houses. Hughes has been placed on duty at the No. 4 station at Tenth and Jongs streets, and Leonard at the No. 3 station at Tenth and Clay streets. Both went to work as regular fire men this morning.

OFFER TURNED DOWN.

John D. Rockefeller Wouldn't Talk for a Thousand.

Paris, June 12.—A reporter of the Matin with a check for $1,000 in his pocket, has been hunting for John D. Rockefeller in the hope of purchasing fifteen minutes' conversation with him. The amount the Matin expected to pay for his time was calculated on the supposition that his income is about $4,000 hourly. Mr. Rockefeller's son-in-law met the reporter and refused his request with much laughter.

Extra Size Coffin.

Richmond, Ind. June 12.—Joseph Cunningham, a stock man of Logee, who was recently buried at Bunker Hill, Ind., required a specially made casket, on account of his large size. The casket measured twenty-eight inches on the inside and was so large it was impossible for the undertaker to place it inside the funeral car, so it was transported to the cemetery in a furniture wagon.

Going to Oyster Bay.

Washington, June 12.—Preparations are being made by President Roosevelt and his family for their summer sojourn at Sagamore Hill, Oyster Bay. A large load of trunks and boxes was shipped from the White House today. On Friday next Ethel and Archie Roosevelt will go to Sagamore Hill, where they will join Quentin, the youngest of the family, who left Washington some time ago.

Cures Old Sores.

Westmoreland, Kan., May 5, 1902: Ballard Snow Liniment Co. Your Snow Liniment cured an old sore on the side of my chin that was supposed to be a cancer. The sore was stubborn and would not yield to treatment, until I tried Snow Liniment, which did the work in short order. My sister, Mrs. Sophia J. Carson, Allensville, Minn. Co., Pa., has a sore and mistrusts that it is a cancer. Please send her a 50c bottle Sold by Alvey & List.

Music at Panama.

Washington, June 12.—Digging of the Panama canal from now on will be one grand sweet song. Those in charge of the digging end of the work have discovered that the tropical negroes can work faster when they sing. On the "big ditch" section bosses have been turned into music teachers, time-keepers to choirmasters and popular songs have replaced the handy machete and time book as incentives to labor.

Acute Rheumatism.

Deep tearing or wrenching pains, occasioned by getting wet through; worse when at rest, or on first moving the limbs and in cold or damp weather, is cured quickly by Ballard's Snow Liniment. Oscar Oleson, Gibson City, Ill., writes, Feb. 16, 1902: "A year ago I was troubled with a pain in my back. It soon got so bad I could not bend over. One bottle of Ballard's Snow Liniment cured me." Sold by Alvey & List.

The Pope on Dress.

Stories multiply of Pope Pius' democracy. Visitors are received with great simplicity. As soon as one enters he causes him to be seated in an armchair by his side, chats, laughs and relates anecdotes and stories. The other day the pope, while receiving some ladies, remarked that they had trains to their skirts.

"This is not hygienic," said he; "one gathers thus in the streets a quantity of microbes and other things. As to myself, when they compel me to add a train to my Cassock it bothers me much, although there are four prelates to uphold it."

"But, holy father," said one of the visitors, "we hold up our trains when in the streets."

"That must be very inconvenient," replied Pius X.; and passing from word to action the pope made several turns in the room holding up his robe in mimicry of a fine lady.—Chicago Journal.

OPEN MUTINY

Breaks Out in the Pletz Regiment of Infantry.

A consultation was asked by those interested in the prosecution after which Commonwealth's Attorney Adams announced that the prosecution would not be ready to hear the motion until Wednesday or next week.
